

AGENDA

Sunday, April 17

3:00pm

Historic Trolley Tour of Downtown Savannah (90-minute tour)

Old Town Trolley Tours® of Savannah offers visitors a first glance at life in an enchanting and alluring Southern town.

$30 / person

Maximum 36 people

Monday, April 18

7:00 am

Registration

7:30 am

Breakfast with Keynote: Economic Forecast for the South

- Chris Oakley, Vice President and Regional Executive, Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta - Jacksonville Branch

Sponsored by:

8:30 am

Workshops to Successfully Strengthen your Presence within the U.S. Market

- U.S. Immigration Update

Gain valuable insights in what is on the immigration horizon that will affect your business.

- Teri Simmons, Director, International / Immigration Practice Group, Arnall Golden Gregory, LLP

- Talent Retention – Working with Millennials

In today's workforce, understanding existing and changing motivations, expectations and communication preferences is vital for optimal management and employee productivity. Expand your understanding of the evolution of the workforce and learn how to optimize these changes to successfully manage and retain your existing talent and to recruit new talent.

- Rolf Wrona, Vice President Human Resources, Mercedes Benz U.S. International
- Steven D. Charlier, Assistant Professor, Department of Management
Georgia Southern University

- International Tax Update

Tax changes can create both risks and opportunities. This workshop will present important recent tax developments affecting global companies today.

- Elisa Fay, CPA, Rödl & Partner

9:45 am

Coffee Break

Sponsored by:

10:30 am

Panel Discussion: The Future of Mobility

From the manufacturing of lightweight materials and shifts in mobility preferences, to the emergence of autonomous vehicles, the transformation of mobility has far-reaching implications for how we move people and goods. Effecting all industries, transportation technology has the potential to alter current industry structures, business models, value creation, and more.

- Dimitrios Andrikos, Head of Sales Operations, Siemens Industry, Inc.,
Mobility Division, Intelligent Traffic Systems
- Dr. Joachim G. Taiber, Chief Technology Officer, International Transportation
Innovation Center (ITIC)
- Klaus Zellmer, President & CEO, Porsche Cars North America, Inc.
- Moderator: Martin Richenhagen, Chairman, President and CEO, AGCO Corporation

Sponsored by:

12:00 pm

Luncheon with Keynote:

- Karl-Theodor zu Guttenberg, Chairman & Founder, Spitzberg Partners LLC, Former Minister of Defense and Minister of Economics and Technology of the Federal Republic of Germany

1:30 pm

Panel Discussion: The Future of Logistics

Economic changes, new technologies and shifts in trade patterns have made their impact on global supply chains. The industry is adopting innovative tools to provide faster, cheaper, sustainable, and more reliable delivery to fulfill customers' growing demands.

- Cliff Pyron, Chief Commercial Officer, Georgia Ports Authority
- Martin Pleyer, COO, Grenzebach Corporation
- William Seward, President of International Business, UPS
- Bill Morgan, President, Deufol North America
- Moderator: Timothy Brown, Managing Director, Georgia Tech Supply Chain
and Logistics Institute (SCL)

Sponsored by:

3:00 pm

Coffee Break

Sponsored by:

3:30 pm

Annual General Meeting (for Members in Good Standing only)
Election of the Board of Directors and State of the Chamber Report

Sponsored by:

5:30 pm

Evening Reception

Location: The Ships of the Sea Maritime Museum

April 18, 2016 | Hyatt Regency Hotel | Savannah, GA

Tuesday, April 19

10:00am

Tour of the Port of Savannah

45 Min presentation followed by a terminal tour
Maximum 25 people

12:00pm

Worlds Trade Center Savannah Business Networking Lunch

WTC Savannah will sponsor a networking lunch for GACC members who would like to meet local businesses and leaders. This will be an opportunity for GACC members to network with the community and for the community to learn more about the GACC.
Maximum 40 people